1830 COALFIELDS/READING VARIANT BEGINS

DIP GAME AWAITS SHORE DUTY

The yet unnamed 1830 variant game has begun. All seven prospective players voted and the combined Coalfields-Reading with extra $8000 won handily with 43 points--this despite Dan Farrow's vote of '0' for it. Thus Dan will be sitting this one out. The second place option (with 39 points) was the Reading with an extra $8000. Last place (14 pts) was Coalfields & Reading without Erie. You'll find the game start on page 6.

We got six sets of country preferences for BORIS VI. Franz didn't submit and is presumed still at sea. Langbert's portfolio was assumed by Klausuris. We will start this one no later than the January issue, so if you want in, send a country preference list and we'll put you on the waiting list.

About resignations. That, of course, is your right and it is certainly preferable to NMR'ing out of a game. But think for a moment about the brave fellow that is going to assume your position and your hapless GM who's got to con him, or, persuade him to do it. At least send in a set of orders with your resignation so that a smooth transition of power can occur. It will be appreciated.

Looks like we might have the minimum for GUNSLINGER. Would Jack McHugh, Dan Farrow, and Scott Cameron submit Showdown preferences and character preferences within the Showdowns. If either Wayne Morrison or Bill Anderson can be persuaded to join the shoot-out, lead could be flying in an issue or two.

With the variant start and the imminent DIP and GSI starts, we've pretty much run out of room (and time on publishing weekend) for more games. We'll have to wait until some of the extant games finish up. Both Harkonen and Fremm are one stronghold away from victory in DUNE and COMMIES have two of the needed three waves in KREMLIN, so that could be just a matter of a couple of issues before something opens up. The Hunt will continue on a space available basis.

BORIS'S BBS

THOUGHT FOR THE SEASON: Valgo totis castis testamento obsignabatur. --Julius Caesar

FAST TRAX is back! The pre-eminent 'zine of 1830dom is again publishing and, better yet, is free for the asking from Dick Martin, 17601 Lisa Dr, Rockville, MD 20855. Back issues can be had for the cost of postage. The latest issue chronicles the doings of four games and has a report from the Rail Games Seminar from Origins '91 (better late than never). The latter is especially interesting as insight into where the rail game hobby is going.

Mark Luedi (503 W Jefferson #2, Ann Arbor, MI 48103-4917; 313-662-1565) is looking for some postal 1835 types to play in his WILD GYPSY ROSE. Subscriptions are free to players and standbys, 80 cents an issue otherwise.

CONTEST: Name the 1830 variant game and win two free issues of this rag. Something short and pithy is desired.

BOOS & KUDOS

BRITS STAB FRENCH? TSAR BACK IN COMMAND

SPRING 1904

The Brits handed President Rezzarday both a military and political setback with their destruction of A HOL and the thwarting of French designs on KIE. Is this the deathknell of Anglo-French solidarity? Is Lord One-Eyed coming at last to the succor of his Saxon kin or is he making his move for hegemony? An Anglo-Italian alliance should strike panic in Paris. Meanwhile the East is still a mixed-up muddle. Sultan Tsuk is holding his own while the Tsar tries to recoup lost opportunities. It's hard to say if Wormtongue has stabbed Rome or whether the attack on GRE is part of a general troop shuffle.

EMBASSY BEAT

PARIS--Finally an expedition has been mounted to find the lost army of southern France, last seen in mountain region near the border of PIE and TRL. "We hope to find them in good health," says Field Marshal Savard, leader of the expedition.

BORIS WORLD PRESS REVIEW

Le Monde--War declared on France by Germany? "We will bury you," Cardinal Diego Khrashev, a very active supporter of the French movement, declared after reading the declaration in the Sunday comics.

Detroit News--An inside source has informed this newspaper of high level discussions being held in the French Consulate between the Imperial Russian Consul and his French counterpart. We can only presume that the discussions are leading to the formal alliance between the countries and that perfidious Albion is the main target of the alliance. Or maybe the Frenchman is teaching the Russian to play chess. Yeah, right. It's well known that the Russians have no aptitude for the game.

FRANCE RESIGNS! GERMANY REELING! SPRING 1904

Citing intense business travel plans, President Langbert has resigned, leaving a power vacuum in La Belle France and opportunities galore for her ancient rival England. Kaiser Rolfe's reign appears to be at an end as his last army has been evicted from MUN. The Italian succession has gone smoothly as Plapjack replaces his sidekick Bwad. The real question, of course, is when the Anglo-Russian coalition will selfdestruct. The sooner the better for the rest of Europe.

HERBERT BEAT

BUDAPEST--The liberation of TRI & SER have created a national fervor in Austria unseen in ages. Recruitment centers are besieged with both new volunteers and with returning veterans. "With the Navy sunk off GRE at least I won't get sea duty," explained retired Boatswain Otto Smeck. "I was in the Navy when ships still had sails. I hope they send me to the coast where there's windmills. They're almost sails." The Government announced the formation of two more armies to begin training this winter.

ROME: The new Italian Prime Minister, Jack McEyetie was pacing around the Quirteralia. "That stupid Conservative leader Bwad Wilson, he left me with another of his problems, what am I going to do?" Absentmindedly he rubbed a cheap pair of Italian shoes.

POOF! Suddenly All Paul, the Genie of the Shoes appear. "Hey, I thought you were only in lamps," said Jack.

"I'm not writing this you are," growled the pubbetigenie.

"Oh yeah," said the Flapper. "Are you here to grant me three wishes?"

"No, I'm here to remind you of the deadline," said the Genie. "It was an hour ago. Shake a leg."

VIENNA--Weeks of backdoor bargaining and midnight negotiations successfully returned Austrian control to SER and liberated the port of Trieste. For his skillful handling of these most important first steps to a return of the Austrian Empire to greatness in the Balkans, the European Advisor to the throne, Ron Fisher has been appointed Foreign Minister and granted a barony in the Burgenland, near Grosspeterdorf.

Fisher announced he was presently working to further normalize relations with Russia and trying to open a channel of communication with Italy.

GREED IS GOOD

PA FLOATS!!

CP and B&M Founded!

ERRATA: Tile #7 was laid in F18(se) as the text has it, not (e) as the map has it. (Actually, the map is right if you use the #7 tile from 1835!) Thus in OR 3.2, NYNH&H ran G19N-F20 ($70), F22-F20 ($30), F22-F24-G23 ($160); dividend should have been $16/share. Mike Puffenberger's cash should've been $196. Somehow the B&O's bridge build and token drop in J14 never got debited. B&O starts SR 4 with $380. BORIS has finally got around to ginning up a spreadsheet on this game, and that should improve the bookkeeping. Sigh. Keep up the good work.

No rehabilitations were announced.

As usual Our Beloved Party Chief waved to the admiring crowd for 17 hours, proving himself a most capable leader.

THE HUNT

SECOND HUNT BEGINS!

Inspired by Lipton's book, "An Exaltation of Larks", this is a word game where we propose a noun and the players are asked to propose a collective noun to fit, such as "flock" for "sheep", or "pride" for lions. Boris and Ms Nar will rank each entry for each word and the best score will be the winner, regardless of Mr. Lipton's proclamations. Each word gives a possible 1 point, but the point may be split if either more than one player suggests it or two or more words are ranked equally. The first player to score 10 points wins six free issues of this rag. The Hunt is run in "Chases" or rounds. This is the first Chase, so everyone is starting out even. To the Hunt!

ODDS & ENDS

Well, it's midnight of press night and here I have about two-thirds of a page to fill before I can consider this puppy (sorry, Mark) finished. I've seen all the printed pages but this one and they look good. Just hope I didn't cut it too fine on the upper and lower limits of the page so that the copy machine won't cut off any text. Guess I find out tomorrow when it goes to duplication.

The following are games we could do here. The paragraph was going to be on Page 15, but I ran out of room there. This is as good a place as any to stick it.

Other Possibilities: 1829, ADVANCED CIVILIZATION, CIRCUS IMPERIUM, CIRCUS MAXIMUS, CONQUISTADOR, DUNE, GLADIATOR, GODSPIRE, KINGMAKER, KREMLIN, RAIL BARON, RUSSIAN CIVIL WAR, STAR SOLDIER, STELLAR CONQUEST, TITAN, and variants thereof.

Don Chinnery is talking about starting a postal RAIL BARON game. Anyone interested should contact him soonest.

In case you missed it, I'm looking for a DIPper to take over the French portfolio in BORIS V. I'm also asking Mark Frueh to submit provisional orders for Mike Anchors' "Cruelty Is In" position.

Just for yuks, here's a problem I gave my college chemistry class last week:

10. Spaceman Spiff has crashlanded on the moon Titan during the height of winter. Seeking shelter in a cave from the ammonia snows, Spiff uses his xenon laser blaster (tuned to 298.3 nm and set at "incinerate") to raise in mere milliseconds the temperature of a 1.00 m³ cube of iridium he found in the cave from ambient (-80°) to a toasty 40°. Given that the specific heat of Ir is 0.0317 cal/g and that the power pack of his xenon blaster had enough power to emit 1000.0 moles of photons when fully charged, what percent of his power pack did he just expend?

CONSTANTS

$$c = 2.998 \times 10^8 \text{ m/sec} \quad h = 6.626 \times 10^{-34} \text{ J-sec} \quad N = 6.022 \times 10^{23} \text{ /mol}$$

DENSITIES: iridium 22.42 g/cm³

EQUATIONS

$$c = \lambda \nu \quad E = h\nu \quad q = -nF\Delta T$$

UNIT CONVERSIONS

$$1 \text{ cal} = 4.184 \text{ J}$$

This stuff will come in handy if you try to solve it.

FIRST CLASS

OOPS!

Ah, the wonders of E-mail! Chuck Hanna has already pointed out that I mucked up his SR orders and that companies can't sell trains to one another until Phase Two (Rule XII.1, Sentence 5). This means that the sales of the SX's 2+2s were illegal. That also means that SX couldn't buy the 3-train to cause the phase change (Rule XII.2, Sentence 3).

While I don't think it would affect tile play this time, I'm going to roll back the turn to #2's operating round, and give you the option to redo OR 5. So due next time are any redos you wish to make to OR 5 and orders for SR 6.

A corrected report follows.
